Fees Up $1 a Credit Hour For 'General' Students

THE UNIVERSITY Board of Trustees today announced an increase in tuition fees effective September 1. The new charges will affect all students as follows:

1) GENERAL STUDENTS

An increase of $1 from $12 to $13, for each credit hour in which the student registers in all schools, colleges and divisions except the Law School, the School of Medicine, and candidates for Doctors' degrees.

This means that for general full-time students carrying 15 credit hours, the increase will be $15 per semester from $180 to $195.

2) LAW STUDENTS—An increase of $3, from $12 to $15, for each credit hour in which the student registers in the Law School. For full-time students carrying 14 credit hours this means an increase of $42 a semester from $168 to $210.

3) MEDICAL STUDENTS—An increase of $100, from $650 to $750 per year for two terms in the School of Medicine.

4) DOCTORATES—An increase of $40, from $360 to $400, for work leading to and including the Council Fellowship examination for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, or the general examination for the degree of Doctor of Education.

An increase of $40, from $360 to $400, for work leading to and including the Final Examination for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Education or Doctor of Juridical Science.

Commenting on the new fees, authorized by the University's Board of Trustees, President Floyd H. Marvin said that "this is our first tuition increase in four years, and we make such increases with great reluctance."

"It is our policy to keep tuition fees as low as possible," he said, "but we find this new tuition schedule necessary to maintain our high academic standards."

"For most of our students," Dr. Marvin added, "this represents an increase of about eight per cent in tuition costs. The increases in educational costs during the past four years—faculty and administrative salary raises and the rising cost of equipment—far exceeds that figure."

'Pink String and Sealing Wax,' Last Production, Opens Friday

NO, THEY ARE NOT the Smith Brothers trimming their fuzzolas or Lydia Pinkham applying her own patent. They're Harriet Hulfish, who plays Pearl Bond; Philip Gagan as Dr. O'Shea's son, and Robert Tron as Ernest Strachan, all stars in "Pink String and Sealing Wax" opening Friday at Lisner.

'Ruddigore' Chants Tale Of Witches' Curse, Love

By TOM WOJTKOWSKI

ABLE SINGERS with good accompaniment, brilliant costuming and very effective lighting combined for rare entertainment in "Ruddigore," a lesser-known comic opera in the Gilbert & Sullivan repertoire.

Sung by the Air Force Singing Sergeants and University Women's Glee Club, supported by the Air Force Symphony Orchestra, the operetta featured Sergeant Ivan Genuchi, in the lead as Sir Ruthven Murgatroyd who lives incognito as Robin Oakapple. Genuchi's tenor voice, seemed weak at times against the heaviness of the orchestra. His acting was superior, especially in the second act gallery scene.

Supporting Ruthven and competing for the love of the village beauty is the bold and indelicate lover Dick Dauntless. Sergeant Frank Mervine combined true blue-jacket carefree amosity into his strong tenor voice and exuberant acting.

Judith Callender, (Rose Maybud) the object of the lovers, whose naivete in such matters was amusing, displayed perhaps the most powerful soprano voice of the evening.

The diction of a number of the cast was inaudible at times, due either to poor enunciation or voice weakness; the orchestra was surprisingly well-muted except in parts when brass or woodwind blared through in the choral numbers in the finales.

Sergeant Samuel Fernley, baritone, portraying Sir Despard Murgatroyd, could have had more volume. He chooses as his bride, Mad Margaret, performed by Peggy Schaaf, whose witch-like imitations, combined with gown, lights, and music, were extremely effective.

Ruthven's true nature is revealed by the embittered Dick, and he falls heir to the curse. By catching his ancestors on a technicality, especially Sir Roderick, the curse is broken, and the operetta ends happily for everybody in true Gilbert & Sullivan tradition.

The entire production was under the direction of Warrant Officer Robert Landers. The next one will certainly be looked for.

4-Year Program Trains Engineers

AN AIR FORCE Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit will be set up at the University next fall, officials announced here Friday. The courses, designed to train engineering officers for the Air Force, are open to all engineering students who wish to volunteer, and who can qualify physically and academically. Containing two years of preliminary, and two years of advanced training, graduates in the program will receive commissions, and will be expected to go on active duty for two or three years.

Only 62 Selected

The University was among 450 schools in the country that applied for the training units, but only 62 were selected. This brings the number of student training units to 187.

Robert Burns Stevens is directing the Roland Pertwee "Gay '90's" melodrama that will run Friday and Saturday in Lisner Auditorium. Tickets are on sale in Lisner box office at 90 cents with the activities book.

Robert Tron has the starring role of Ernest Strachan, the domineering father who does not want his children to live their own lives. William Cain has the main supporting role, playing Albert Strachan, the son, who gets involved in a murder and with a street walker, Pearl Bond, played by Harriet Hulfish.

Actress Longs to Sing

Claudia Chapline and Ellen Ingalls have the roles of the Strachan daughters, Jessie and Emily. Jessie is an aspiring actress while Emily longs to be a great singer. They have a 12-year-old sister played by Janet Carter whose antics keep the play moving.

Also in the cast are: Marjorie Prussing as Mrs. Strachan, Orel Leonard as Dr. O'Shea and Philip Gagan as his son, who falls in love with Emily Strachan. The play is a reproduction of all the conflicts of the human mind and body.

Stage manager for this production is Eve Gresser and her assistant is Claus Van Rettig-Bendz. The set for the play is being constructed by Eugene Ward, and publicity and promotion are under the direction of William Vorenberg.

Cast on TV

The cast of this play appeared on WTOP-TV last night.

The play is one of the many being presented in Washington to commemorate "Theater Week in the Nation's Capital." The week runs from April 23 to 29 and will be carried out through the cooperation of the local professional, semi-professional and amateur organizations in the Metropolitan Area. Also participating will be the local radio and TV stations and the public libraries.

Sigma Chi Wins IFC Sing Cup

FIRST PLACE in the annual Inter-Fraternity Sing last Tuesday night was awarded—after considerable confusion and no little consternation on the part of both the participants, the winners and the audience—to Sigma Chi.

Second place went to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, led by Warren Hull who also garnered the Director's Cup. Phi Alpha, for the third consecutive year, was awarded the Fraternity Scholarship Cup.

At the conclusion of the Sing, Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary leadership fraternity, tapped 10 new members: three faculty and seven students. The new faculty members of ODK are: Brig. Gen. Douglas Van Evera, Coordinator of Scientific Activities, and Dr. Irving Brotman, immediate past-president of Colonials, Inc. The seven new student members are: Andy Davis, Donald L. Johnson, Don Lief, Tad Lindner, Dick Peppers, Bill Seabrooke and Lewis Steadman.

Abuses Language

Mistress of ceremonies for the Sing was Kyra Marie, Russian-born songstress currently appearing at Washington's King Cole Room. Miss Marie entertained the audience throughout the Sing with her amusing abuse of the English language. Introducing the Sigma Chi selection (See SING Page 2)

Sing No More!

WHEN A TRADITION has outlived its purpose and lost its meaning, it is time for that tradition to go. It should not be retained when its bad features outweigh its good.

Such is the case with the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Sings. Fraternity men have displayed a steadily declining interest in the Sing as shown by the lesser number of fraternities competing each succeeding year. It must be remembered that the fraternities compete with one another in many other fields, especially sports, and hence are generally less interested than the sorority members are in the Sing, which is their major competition of the year. Only through the last minute decision of one fraternity not to withdraw was the IFC Sing held at all this year.

The various sororities have had problems created by the Sing, since it is of such a highly competitive nature. Many of the smaller sororities enter the competition with the feeling on not really having a chance. Others do not bother to enter. In the larger sororities which enter the Sing determined to win, the work and preparation for the Sing is out of all proportion to the desired end and causes much strain on all concerned. The members must neglect other activities to which they belong as well as neglect the all-important books. Also the time consumed by practice causes strains both within the group and between the members and their partners.

The Sings were originally set up as an entertainment for the whole University by the Greeks. This purpose for the sororities is rapidly becoming secondary to the idea of winning the Sing regardless. Both Sings have a long tradition at the University dating back to years before the war. During the war they were combined into the All-University Sing, primarily because not many fraternities could enter—all the members were in service. After the war the Sings were again separated to prevent the program from being too long.

It has been suggested by a few individuals around campus that if the Sings were recombined, a good evening's entertainment could be had by all. This appears impractical because there might easily be a year when many sororities and fraternities will decide to compete and the program will again be too long as immediately after the war.

The Panhellenic Council, recognizing that something had to be done, has organized a committee to investigate the Sing. Two of the proposals being mentioned are limiting the number of participants and limiting the rehearsal time. If the number of participants is limited below the present 30 it will seriously affect the quality of the music, since a small group of women's voices does not carry as well. Likewise it will defeat the idea of the sorority entertaining the University and it will divide the sorority into those who are singing and those who are not. If the time for rehearsal is limited to, for example, one month, that month would contain even more concentrated rehearsing on campus and the sorority members will not be spared any problems of lost time.

Considering all sides of the problem it seems best to abolish the Sings. Perhaps the IFC and the Panhellenic Council can find some other outlet for their desire to entertain the University, since it is indeed a high motive and should not be lost. But, the Sings must go.

LET US IN

• APPROXIMATELY 500 male students at Michigan State attempted to invade the girls' dormitories last week.

At 10:15 male students gathered for the attack in front of one of the girls' dorms and the siege lasted for two hours. At the first dormitory the men were able to reach the third floor in their attack—but they were soon repulsed by the coeds, house mothers, and a campus police sergeant.

After being driven back from this first dorm, the students sought to force their way into four other dormitories. One stranded coed was unable to break through the lines and get into the dorm. Finally with help of the police she succeeded in getting through. These attacks were also repulsed.

As a last try the male students moved on to still another girls' dorm, Wells Hall. But the girls at Wells proved to be a match for them. They had been forewarned. The rioters were greeted with showers of water and various items of female attire. Some tried to gain entrance by the fire escape in the rear. They were also defeated.

When it was all over no one was hurt and only a few names were turned over to the Dean of Students. Reason for the attack: a few days previously the coeds had awakened the men at 7:30 with a song parade.

YES—DRAFT STUDENTS

A singularly different view about the draft situation from the college press has come forth in the Pitt News where a veteran student explained why he thinks students should be drafted.

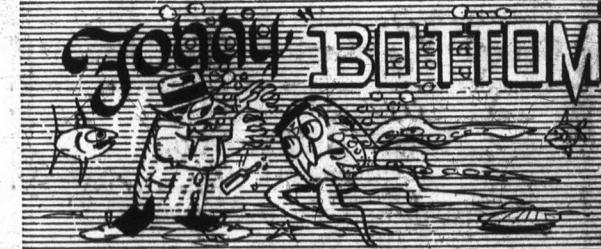

The writer declared that one of the reasons that educators take a dim view of the draft students' idea is simply personal. They are looking out for themselves. If enrollment goes down a teacher or two might lose his job. Moreover, students would not suffer from a period of army training. They would benefit from a year or two of living in the rough.

Young men who have had army experience will appreciate their college educations more, for one thing. There is something to the idea that a rich educational background helps in the army, but that is all the more reason for taking students out of the middle of their college work. They can apply their educational background to army work and will doubly appreciate the additional background they will get when they return to college.

In short, he announced: "The need for an adequate defense is immediate and pressing, for the only way we can ever maintain the present, albeit somewhat fitful, peace is to show to the whole world the mailed fist of military power."

LOCAL COLLEGE NEWS NOTES

Testudo, wandering Maryland U. mascot, has been placed back on his pedestal after an absence of almost a year. The Diamondback pointed out that his reappearance came strikingly close to the arrival of Johns Hopkins men for the lacrosse game. Someone want publicity?

• LIKE AN OLD SOLDIER, this column is about to fade away. Again we have no news contributed, so we'll have to devote the whole thing to our friends. And if you don't like it to hell with it. Actually, the situation is bad. Surely someone is getting married, or engaged, or something; but nary a word to us. Only Phi Sigma Kappa was good enough to turn in a few words, so they get top billing.

Phi Sig held a coffee hour with Sigma Kappa on the 16th untrammelled by any incidents but held nevertheless. Undismayed, the Phi Sigs again held parties on Friday and Saturday nights, the latter involving a Dogpatch theme. Wolf Gal Cathie Coates chewed off Hairless Ed Howar's left index finger at 11:35. The dispatch goes on to say that a real live pig (Bill Leikari) was the hit of the evening.

The tragedy of it all is that those who wanted to hear all that were there, whereas those who weren't don't give a damn.

Everybody has his opinion of the Truman-MacArthur affair, so here's ours. Impeach Truman, lynch Acheson, hang Bradley, and have a good fashioned coup. The only difference between this and the recent Costello-O'Dwyer-Tobey free-for-all is that the contestants have stayed apart. Or have they?

Since pseudo snobs are this column's most avid readers Gate-and-Key campus super snobs wish to announce that Convention registration fees are way behind schedule. Please send your checkies to Social Chairman Joe Barish at the Theta Delt house.

That's all the news. A few items: the argument over parties, and Engineers, and so forth, had some result; any party with more than one non-member in attendance shall be an open party and must be scheduled. Ha!

The "Toast of Moscow" will be invited to a return engagement at next year's sing. All she has to do is repeat her first-act performance all evening. The singing was fairly good, heard from backstage in the MC's room. Orchids: to Sigma Chi's winning singers, for a superior performance. Onions: to the "Toast" for her garbled announcement of the results. Garlic: to Dean Acheson.

Joke department: One Englishman to an other: "I say old boy, did you hear that Codgley's fallen in love with a horse?" Second Britisher: "Good Lord!!" A female horse, I hope." First Briton again: "OH, TO BE SURE. Nothing queer about Codgley."

Flash: from SAE . . . The Hotel 2400 was the scene of their annual spring formal Saturday night, where lightheaded (or maybe they meant hearted) couples ate, drank, ate drank, danced, drank and drank all evening and far into the morning . . . we heard there was a preponderance of Pi Phi present . . . sounds like a monopoly market to me.

Student Life Defines 'Closed' Gatherings

• IN AN ATTEMPT to clarify the registration procedures for campus events, the Student Life Committee last Wednesday decided that there will be no "closed nights" at the University in the future.

At the same time, the Committee approved several changes in the Student Activities Manual which were recommended by a subcommittee consisting of Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities; Max Farrington, director of men's activities; Marilyn Sandwick, president of the Panhellenic Council, and Edmund Howar, president of the Interfraternity Council.

An Addition to Rules

An addition to the existing rules will require the Student Council to determine the University events for the coming school year at the beginning of the fall term. At the same time, the Student Council will be the only administrating body to punish violations of the new procedure.

Student Life's action came as an outgrowth of conflicting attitudes about the definition of "open" and "closed" meetings of fraternal groups on campus.

The Committee has released some questions and answers which spell out the effect of the new rules:

Q. Will there be any closed nights in the future?

A. No.

Q. Since University events will have calendar priority, who will determine a University event? Is any event to which all students are invited considered a University event?

A. The Student Council will determine which events will be University events. The invitation of all students to a meeting will not necessarily constitute a University event.

Q. How will a rush of many parties and dances on the same night be prevented?

A. It will be the duty of the activities director of the Student Council and his committee to prevent overcrowded nights on the social calendar. The calendar committee will have the final jurisdiction in the scheduling of events. In case of violations, the Student Council, acting on the advice of its activities director, will administer punishment.

Open Gatherings Defined

Q. What is an open meeting?

A. All references to "open" or "closed" meetings have been deleted from the Student Activities Manual. "Gatherings" will be used to include both meetings and social functions. An open gathering is pre-arranged for social or business purposes, at which non-members may be present. A closed gathering is restricted to members.

Q. Will fraternities have to list their Friday and Saturday night open houses?

A. Only if they are prearranged. If the house is open without pre-arrangement, there need not be registration.

Jazz Band, Queen, Spot May Day

• A JAZZ BAND concert will be the added drawing card for the All-University May Day celebration the evening of Friday, May 4, in Lisner Auditorium, Dick Riecker, activities director, said in his report to the Student Council in a meeting Thursday night.

Awards to Be Presented

The program will include the presentation of awards to various outstanding individuals, the tapping of new members for Mortar Board, senior women's honorary and the crowning of the May Queen.

The Queen will be chosen by a ballot open to all women students of the University. The preliminary vote will choose three finalists from among the women chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." The final ballot will choose one of those three to be presented Friday night.

The balloting will take place between 11:30 and 12:30 for the preliminary and 1 and 2 p.m. for the finals, all on Friday, May 4.

Other Business

In other business the Council passed the constitutions of the Enoian Society, a debating group; the Public Relations and Advertising Club, and the new Colonial Boosters.

President Tad Lindner announced the recent Student Life decisions regarding closed nights and registration procedures.

Class Officer Elections Now Set for May 2, 3

• CLASS ELECTIONS are going to take place Wednesday and Thursday, May 2 and 3, as a result of the new amendment to the Student Council Constitution.

7) There will be a meeting of all candidates on Monday, April 30 at 2 p.m. in the Student Council Office. (Four offices are open in each class: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.)

Rules for the Campaign are as follows:

1) No candidate may spend more than $30 for his campaign.

2) The University Hatchet, due to a limited production budget, will be unable to allot space to any election ads.

3) All posters to be used on University property must be approved by the University Business Office. No blackboard advertising is permitted.

4) Campaigning is illegal inside this area: the fence by the fire house, across G St. to sidewalk and front East property line of Leo's across G St. No campaigning in the Student Union and no public address systems are allowed.

Big Sis to Notify

• WITHIN THE next week Dorothy Lee, corresponding secretary of Big Sisters, will notify those women students who have met the qualifications for membership in this organization.

Tickets on Sale

• TICKETS FOR the All-University Campus Celebrities Capers are now on sale in the Student Activities Office. The semi-formal dance will be held at the Wardman Park Hotel, Saturday, May 5.

Cordelli Hits 2 HR's

ROLLING ALONG at their "win a game, lose a game pace," the Colonial baseball team divided two games at Lexington, Va., over the week end.

Friday, the Washington and Lee Generals handed the boys a 7-0 trouncing behind the four-hit hurling of sophomore Bud Day. The Generals got to Buff pitcher George Sengstack in the first

The Buff really exploded in the ninth frame with a seven run rally that was highlighted by "Larrupin" Lou Ciarocca's circuit clout with the bases loaded. For Hughes the win was his second against one loss.

The lone home game scheduled for this week is with Maryland and will be played today at 2:30 at the Ellipse.

The weekly picture however lists four games in five days. Following today's clash with the Terps, the Colonials will play Georgetown in an away game tomorrow and then they make their second southern junket, playing VMI and Virginia on Friday and Saturday. They conclude their road trip on Monday with a game against VPI.

Although the visitors were out hit 11-10, by VMI, the Keydets were able to score but twice as "handsome" Ed Hughes, the GW moundsman, kept their hits scattered and bore down with men on base.

Buff Sailors Take Third

BY FINISHING THIRD in the Middle Atlantic elimination MA regatta the Colonial sailing team qualified for entrance in the American Cup Regatta which will be held at Annapolis in two weeks.

The top two teams in the American Cup races will qualify for competition in the nationals at MIT.

Navy's Midshipmen posted the top score in the MA eliminations with 147. They were followed closely by Princeton's 138; then came the Buff with 125%. Penn was the fourth and final American Cup, qualified with 107%.

Bob Harwood of GW, who compiled a score of 72, was runner-up to Princeton's Tim Barkley, who was the individual leader, with a 79 total.

Rain Halts League B

By BUDDY WOLFE

NATURE'S FREQUENT nuisance, rain, came just in time to foul up League B of the Inter-fraternity softball tournament last Sunday, forcing all but two games to be canceled.

Delta Tau Delta was leading SAE, 4-1, and AEPI was ahead of Kappa Alpha, 5-3, in the third innings of the two contests, but since they were called at that point because of the downpour, it is questionable whether or not they will be allowed as regulation games.

Playing Time Extended

League A teams, which completed all of their games before the April showers, found a new time allotment much to their liking. While all games were previously stopped at the end of one hour, the playing time has now been extended to an hour and a half. The result was that all games reached their five-inning limits, whereas games governed by the hour time limit were never finished.

Phi Alpha continued their undefeated supremacy in League A by battering PiKA, 9-3. Dan Leviton held the Pikes to a pair of base hits, but PiKA capitalized on the two safeties to tie up the game in the second inning. However, Charlie Goldberg put Phi Alpha back into the lead in the third with a double, driving in two runs. Pitcher Leviton's consecutive hitting streak was ended at six when PiKA's Earl Henry lured him into a pop-up.

PiKA Beat Acacia

The day was not a total loss for PiKA, as they beat Acacia in an earlier game, 7-3. Norm West, making his first appearance as a pitcher, had a one-hit shutout going until the last inning, when Acacia rallied for three runs.

Phi Sigma Kappa took a double-header, defeating Sigma Chi, 15-7, and Acacia, 7-6. Twelve of the Phi Sigs runs against Sigma Chi were bunched together in one inning, featured by homers off the bats of Woody Woods and pitcher Fred Cardona.

Against Acacia, Phi Sig had to carry the game into extra innings before Tom Saxe drove in the winning run with a single. Phi Sig had led throughout the contest when Acacia tied up the game in the last inning with four big runs.

Bruffey a Fast Hurler

Lowly Kappa Sig put up a brave fight against TKE's fast-balling Al Bruffey before going down, 8-6. Berne Smith, Jack Eck and Arnie Solis connected with Bruffey's steam-balls and whacked him for three solid homeruns. However, Bruffey had great hitting support from his teammates, who came through with several round-trippers themselves.

Before the day was over, Kappa Sig found themselves in another homerun-hitting slugfest, losing again, this time to Sigma Chi, 20-17. Smith, Eck and Solis again connected for homers for the Kappa Sigs, but Sigma Chi out-homered them with seven circuit clouts.

Quackenbush Vanquishes Freeman

By SUE MAGUIRE and PAT MOORE

THIS PAST WEEK has been a very busy one for the women on campus. Marjorie Webster Junior College journeyed to the Haines Point tennis courts on Monday despite winds of near gale proportions to compete with GW's tennis varsity. Three singles matches in which Phyllis Dellastatious, Eileen McNally and Amy Schaum were leading, had to be halted after one set because of the lack of time. In the doubles, Margie Wale and Sue Maguire won in two sets, while the teams of Shirley Floyd and Adele Caswell, Beverly Bickwell and Francis Gillmore lost. The schools were evenly matched and the match ended in a tie.

Tied in Tennis

The Inter-Sorority All-University Women's Swimming Meet, which is sponsored by the WRA, was held Wednesday night at the YWCA pool. Points were awarded on the basis of proficiency in speed and form. Ann Quackenbush emerged the winner having accumulated a majority of points, Mary Freeman, Dianne Glatte, and Joan Devries took second, third and fourth places respectively. The winners of the Inter-Sorority meet were Kappa Gamma, first; Kappa Alpha Theta, second, and Delta Gamma, third.

Rifle Club Elections

The Rifle Club recently held elections in which Phyllis Shapiro became president and varsity captain; Laura Lerrick, secretary-treasurer, and Pat Harryman, manager. The team's record for the past season read 7 victories out of 14 matches, with Ann Nolte amassing the greatest number of points.

Installation of new WRA officers will be held in Woodhill House at 12 o'clock on May 2nd, and is open to all women. Bring your lunches. Beverages and dessert will be served.

Regatta Set For Weekend

AN INTRA-MURAL REGATTA, sponsored by the University Sailing Club, will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 28 and 29. Competition is open to all interested persons. Those who enter may sail on an individual basis or as a part of a fraternity team. A team consists of one skipper and one crew.

The winner of this regatta will compete against last season's intra-mural champion, James Merrow, for a trophy to be awarded by the intra-mural department. Awards will also be given the high-point skipper and the leading fraternity team.

Scores will be based on the skipper's cumulative average and therefore it will be necessary to sail in all the races to win the event. NAYRA sailing rules will prevail at the regatta, copies of which may be obtained from room 211 in the Student Union Office Building and day from 12 p.m. to 1.

The races are scheduled for Buzzard's Point on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sunday from 9 to 4.

Bowlers Playoff

INTER-FRATERNITY BOWLING concludes this Saturday with a seven-team playoff based on total pins, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Lafayette Bowling Center.

Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Alpha, PiKA, SAE, Sigma Chi and Theta Delta Chi are the seven teams vying for top honors in the duck-pin tournament. The four places will be decided first by the team winning the highest number of their three games, or in case of a tie, by the top score.

Golfers Slammed

THE DUKE University golf team trounced the Colonial golfers last Friday by 26-1. It was the second loss for the Buff, who have won three times.
